

The 10th Conference of “Young Demographers” Will Take Place in February 2019

Traditionally the Conference of Young Demographers offers an exceptional opportunity to spend two days discussing current demographic issues and above all an opportunity for students and young scientists to learn and get opinions and advices from their more experienced counterparts, colleagues, and teachers from all over the world or at least Europe. The already 10th annual Conference of Young Demographers will take place on the 7th and 8th February 2019 in Prague at the Faculty of Science (Albertov 6, Prague 2). The traditional topic of the conference, “Actual Demographic Research of Young Demographers (not only) in Europe”, is as wide as possible so that the conference can be open to demographers and scientists with various research interests and orientations.

Except for the Young Demographers, the event is traditionally supported by the Department of Demography and Geodemography, Geographical Institute (Faculty of Science of Charles University), SAS Institute of the Czech Republic and the Czech Statistical Office. Moreover, this year also LONGPOP-INT project and University of Economics in Prague are among the supporters.

At the conference, all the participants will have an opportunity to present their current research and discuss it with colleagues from other countries or fields of study. Although the conference is primarily intended for Ph.D. students of demography, all young (or a bit older) researches (not only demographers) are welcome. The working language of the conference is English.

At the end of the conference, the SAS Institute of the Czech Republic and the Institute of Sociology of the Czech Academy of Sciences, partners of the conference, will hand out an award for the best presentation using SAS software and the best presentation with a social context.

A session for non-demographers is planned again. For this session, topics on which demographers may share common scientific ground with researches from other fields are planned and perhaps new areas of cooperation could be developed.

On the 6th February 2019, workshop on current research and modern methods in historical demography will be organized in cooperation with Association for Young Historical Demographers. The workshop capacity is limited. The workshop program could be found online.
